Questions and Answers:

- Q1. Please clarify Scope of Work.
- A1. This bid is for supply and delivery of the generators and automatic transfer switches. No other scope of work is contemplated.
- Q2. If the prevailing wages apply, what is the rate to be used?
- A2. No prevailing wages apply since no work needs to be performed.
- Q3. It is clear the electrical contractor has to provide the generator, the A.T.S. and the rest of the electrical gear and accessories such as electrical panels, junction boxes, meter can, receptacles and pull boxes. Who is going to provide all the equipment and wiring related to the submersible pumps, such as the pumps themselves, controllers, float switches, weatherproof cord sets, etc?
- A3. See answer to question #1.
- Q4. Since the plans show a change of electrical service for both facilities, is it allowed having them out of service during all the time the construction last?
- A4. There is no electrical work to be performed so no need for an electrical contractor. This bid is for the supply and delivery of generators only.
